Civil society organizations and activist groups in support of earthquake victims

Following the emergency situation created after the earthquake strike of November 26 in Durres and Tirana, that took the life of 51 citizens, injuring hundreds of others and destroying the homes of thousands of residents in Thumana, Durres, Vora, Manza, Lac and surrounding areas, the civil society organizations were immediately organized and mobilized their resources and thousands of citizens to support and contribute to helping those affected.

Many individuals, organizations, groups of organizations and civil society activists, reacted immediately offering to the earthquake affected citizens, food, clothing, blankets, mattresses, hygiene material and providing medical assistance. In the days that followed, as part of a more coordinated intervention with governmental and donor institutions, CSOs began providing psychological support services, dealing with cases of families with social problems, and daily recreational programs for children, women and people of the third age, at the accommodation centers.

The mobilization of thousands of volunteers in support of earthquake-affected individuals, either individually or organized, was a significant help, especially in the early days after the disaster when in addition to material support, there was a need for solidarity and words of hope.

Social networks and various platforms played an important role in addressing the aid and mobilizing resources in support of affected groups. Numerous donations from different individuals and organizations at home and abroad, diaspora, business etc were gathered through crowdfunding platforms.

In the meantime, the contribution of civil society organizations to addressing the consequences of the earthquake continues, through activities and programs specifically designed for this situation, in coordination with state institutions and donor support.

Mapping and assessment of civil society organizations' networks in Albania

In Albania, several networks and coalitions of civil society organizations have been established and operate for years, however, there is a lack of consolidated information on their number, field of activity, geographical coverage, members, activities, etc. There is a great need to learn more about networks and understand the contribution they can make.

Partners Albania and the National Resource Centre for Civil Society conducted a study on this issue. The purpose of the study is to provide a mapping of CSO Networks and to assess the networks capacities and the needs to further support the development and ongoing work of networks, coalitions and active community groups (potential networks) in Albania. As part of the study, a mapping of identified networks and coalitions across the country is conducted and individual passports with valuable information for each of them are designed. The passports contain such as: network name, field of activity, mission, members, legal status, network coordination unit and its contacts. The study also explores into the dynamics of networking. It raises questions and begins a conversation about networks, in the development context.

National Resource Centre provides support for capacity building of the networks as a component of its strategic objectives to strengthen the capacities of civil society and to contribute to the creation of an environment that is conducive to civil society, participatory democracy and the EU integration process in Albania.

In this framework, the Centre launched in October an open call for expressions of interest for the Assistance Program for networks and coalitions of civil society organizations. At the Fundraising and Philanthropy lecture, we had the pleasure to have as guest speaker Mrs. Eugenie Harvey - Director of "The Funding Network" in the UK, a network where Partners Albania is part of. In about 50 sessions conducted throughout the NPO Academy 2019, participants have been instructed and assisted in the development of a range of important organizational documents such as policies, procedures, strategic plans, communications, fundraising, etc., thus directly contributing at increase of organizational standards and sustainability.

Study Visit

In addition to the lectures and mentoring session, study visits were organized to public and private institutions as part of the Academy. The visits contributed to increasing participants' knowledge on the role of these institutions in supporting civil society organizations and their activities. The sharing of best practices of intersectoral cooperation regarding the mechanisms of sector involvement in policymaking and decision-making as well as exploring alternative sources of funding for CSOs was the core of discussions between institutions and participants at the Academy 2019.

Training Programs for CSOs

During this quarter, the National Resource Centre organized a series of training programs for local civil society organizations based on their needs, identified as part of the “Capacity and needs assessment for civil society organizations in Albania”. In response to the high interest for training programs on "European Union funding programmes for CSOs", the Centre continued to organize other regional (on-site and on-site) training on this topic, with organizations in Kukës, Tirana, Shkodra, Vlora, Elbasan and Fier. Other trainings organized during this period were on "Fundraising and Revenue Generation" in Korça and Tirana, and on "Strategic Planning" in Tirana.

About 240 CSO representatives attended in the trainings, increasing their knowledge on these issues.

Also, based on the need and interest of CSOs, but also considering the various changes in the legal and regulatory framework in the last months, the Centre organized 4 online trainings on “The legal framework and fiscal treatment of non-profit organizations” with the participation of CSOs from different cities across the country.

Meetings with the sector on the “Code of Standards for CSOs” initiative

Following the event on "Strengthening accountability, transparency and sustainability of civil society organizations – Code of Standards for CSOs" organized early in September this year, Partners Albania and National Resource Center organized during these months a series of informing and discussion roundtables with about 200 civil society organizations in Tirana, Vlora, Shkodra and Korça.

The Code of Standards aims to be a self-regulatory mechanism for the sector that will contribute to increase the CSOs functioning standard, the quality of their activity and transparency of CSOs. This is the beginning of a working process in collaboration and with the involvement of all interested civil society organizations as well as international organizations, agencies and donors working to develop civil society in the country.

Considering this initiative, a decisive step in the creation of standards for the work of the sector and its further development, we invite all interested CSOs to become part of this process with their comments, suggestions, questions and involvement in a more inclusive way as part of the working group on this issue.

Starting from January 2020 will be worked intensively on the preparation of the Code the mechanism of how it will work. The process will have several stages, aiming a large and effective involvement of the sector. Following the drafting of the Code, a series of regional consultations with the sector will be organized across the country.

All organizations that would like to be actively involved in this process are kindly invited to contact us at info@resourcecentre.al.

The new VAT refund procedure for non-governmental organizations enters into force

A new VAT refund procedure entered into force in December 2019. As you have been regularly informed by Partners Albania, this procedure is the result of the work of a working groups created a year ago, on the initiative of the Delegation of the European Union to Albania, with the participation of representatives of the Ministry of Finance, the VAT Refund Directorate and the sector represented by Partners Albania.

The new procedure marks a qualitative step in fully regulating VAT reimbursement by now enabling any funding scheme, of any donor, with a co-operation agreement with the Albanian government, as well as all sub-grant schemes. Applying this procedure implies de-facto exclusion of the non-profit sector from VAT.
